Suatu hari ada anggota Senkom bertanya Tentang ht Kenwood 234 bagaimana cara setingnya. If you want to send me a radio I may make the time to investigate the heck out of it. Those who complained rad the new processor installed by Kenwood when it became available. There are two microprocessors in the TH78; were referring to the one at IC 5. Replacement microprocessors may have a paper label pasted on the top surface.. This would be in keeping with the U.S. Electronic Communications Privacy Act, which resulted in similar changes to scanners. Unscrew four screws and break apart the radio halves. These have a tendency to fall off when opening or closing the radio. Desolder the shields four corners with a pinpoint soldering iron and lift it with rightangle surgical tweezers. To an eye used to standardsized electronic components these millimeterwide specks seem too small for removal. Removing diodes is done by using a pinpointtip soldering iron and braid to wick away the solder before you lift out the diode. The diode can also be lifted slightly but left in place. Then reset the processor as documented in the manual and reenter any frequencies into memory. Frequencies can be programed in up to the 920 MHz ham band but I have no way of measuring sensivity. 800 MHz works but the signals are very weak, you must be near the transmitter for reception. Assuming you are in the town or city where the transmissions originate, it should work. Be aware that the radio gets hot. Prolonged use or use on a busy frequency would not be recommended.The TH78s memory can be copied from one to another entirely over the air, without cables or other special equipment. Perhaps its time to spend a few minutes in a ham store. Of course, given that the ME1 memory expansion unit has 250 memories, laziness is understandable. The display will briefly show one of the characters 1, 2, 3, or F. Press the corresponding key.

The game consists of repeating the displayed character sequence, which increases by one character each round. Then press F to deal five cards. The face value of the cards are displayed; the suits may be seen at any time by holding down the PTT key. Any number of cards may be discarded, and to select or deselect a card for discarding, press the keys 1, 2, 3, 4, or 5.Your new cards will be displayed. If your hand is 2 pair or better, the screen will show the rank of your hand on the left 2P for 2 pair, 4K for four of a kind, etc.. The payoff for that hand will be displayed on the right. Your bet is multiplied by the payoff factor and the resulting pile of cash is displayed in the right hand side of the upper screen. The lefthand side of the upper screen contains your table stakes, which are initially 100 coins from winning the Simon game. If you lose the poker hand, your bet is deducted from your stakes and you are asked to start another poker hand. If you say no, your winnings are credited into your stakes and you are asked to start another poker hand. You have to choose to go for either BIG or SMALL, by pressing 2 or 5. You can keep pressing 2 and 5 to change your mind. When you are ready, you must try to hit the F key to stop the rotating card display, and the card will show, and you will either win, lose, or draw. If you lose, your winnings are gone and you can play poker again. I haven't managed to do this, so I don't know if there is anything beyond this. When the table stakes are exhausted, you go back to playing Simon again. While there's little that can be done and what can be done is noted, being aware of the problem is most of the battle. The antenna is mounted on a mail BNC plug, which is in turn connected to the radio innards with a rigid solder joint instead of a flexible wire. Remember what the manual says about transmitting without the antenna. You can burn out your radio while you're trying to figure out what's wrong.

If you're electrically minded I suggest a prophylactic first strike with a soldering iron and a centimeter of wire. The contents of memory had been lost. The problem is that pins on the back side of the PCB that is mounted on the front half of the TH78 can come into contact with the volume control housings mounted on the PCB on the other half of the unit. My radio had this problem until I put electrical tape across these housings. Symptoms were display blanking momentarily and the radio power cycling, sometimes causing memory erase when pressure was applied to the front of the unit or to the volume controls. If you find the need to replace C17, use a gapfill cyanoacrylate glue like ZapAGap™ to increase the device footprint. I have learned the hard way. Otherwise, I have found it to be a fine radio. My only problems have been related to the C17 issue and attempts to rectify it. Had I been given the above advice, it would have been a one-time only issue. As it is, I took out one of the microprocessors yesterday looking for a bad solder joint that was induced by my attempt to solve the C17 problem sigh. This radio gets a lot of use and a lot of travel. Select a UHF frequency on the VFO. Set the CTCSS tone frequency to some arbitrary number, say, 94.8 Hz. Turn on the CTCSS. Save the whole thing under the call channel for UHF. Select another UHF frequency. Select another CTCSS tone. Turn the subaudible tone on and save it under a spare memory channel. I asked for confirmation of this feature. Checking the power consumption under various configurations, Will came up with the following suggestions Battery consumption with the squelch closed is cut by almost a third. A small strip of aluminum from the positive battery terminal to the depression in the top of the case will allow you to recharge the pack inside the rig. Many of those that do are closed anyway. You can probably get by without them.

In the Philadelphia area most of the open 440 MHz repeaters use CTCSS and none of the 2meter ones do. At least one uses CTCSS for remote inputs. About 60 miles away in southern New Jersey, all of the 2 meter and 440 repeaters use CTCSS. I guess there are some secret codes to switch it to the American bands, but I don't know them. I use the autodialer regularly. I don't have much use for the message memory other than the startup trick though. The RF generator output level was increased until a 12 db fall in audio noise was measured. TH234 Transceiver pdf manual download.
